SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

From the Lewisville ISD Fine Arts Department

We are making an effort to teach our students about good audience manners. Audience manners are based upon respect for the performers and for others in the audience and are expressions of courtesy. Young people in today's society are seldom exposed to formal concert situations and are often not aware of these standards of appropriate behavior.

By following these guidelines you can set a proper example for our students and make the concert more enjoyable for all.

Avoid entering or leaving the room during a performance. If absolutely necessary to do so, move only between numbers.

Talking should be avoided during a performance.

Attention should be directed to the performers at all times.

Please silence or turn-off all devices.

Please, no flash photography during the performance. It's distracting to the performers and the audience.

If you are videotaping the performance, please set your camera up on the side or in the back. Please don't block the line of sight for those sitting behind you.

Thank you for your assistance and enjoy the concert!

Omar Thomas

Described as "elegant, beautiful, sophisticated, intense, and crystal clear in emotional intent," the music of Omar Thomas continues to move listeners everywhere it is performed. Born to Guyanese parents in Brooklyn, New York in 1984, Omar moved to Boston in 2006 to pursue a Master of Music in Jazz Composition at the New England Conservatory of Music after studying Music Education at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Virginia. He is the protégé of lauded composers and educators Ken Schaphorst and Frank Carlberg, and has studied under multiple Grammy-winning composer and bandleader Maria Schneider.

Hailed by Herbie Hancock as showing "great promise as a new voice in the further development of jazz in the future," educator, arranger, and award-winning composer Omar Thomas has created music extensively in the contemporary jazz ensemble idiom. It was while completing his Master of Music Degree that he was appointed the position of Assistant Professor of Harmony at Berklee College of Music at the surprisingly young age of 23. Following his Berklee tenure, he served on faculty of the Music Theory department at The Peabody Institute of The Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, after which he served as an Associate Professor of Composition and Jazz Studies at The University of Texas at Austin for six years. During this most recent tenure, Omar was given the honor of being named a Yamaha Master Educator. He was awarded the ASCAP Young Jazz Composers Award in 2008, and invited by the ASCAP Association to perform his music in their highly exclusive JaZzCap Showcase, held in New York City.

Omar's music has been performed in concert halls the world over. He has been commissioned to create works in both jazz and classical styles. His work has been performed by such diverse groups as the Eastman New Jazz Ensemble, the San Francisco and Boston Gay Mens' Choruses, The United States Marine Band, the Colorado Symphony Orchestra, the Houston Symphony Orchestra, the Azerbaijan State Philharmonic Orchestra and the Showa Wind Symphony, in addition to a number of the country's top collegiate music ensembles. Omar has had a number of celebrated singers perform over his arrangements, including Stephanie Mills, Yolanda Adams, Nona Hendryx, BeBe Winans, Kenny Lattimore, Marsha Ambrosius, Sheila E., Raul Midon, Leela James, Dionne Warwick, and Chaka Khan. His work is featured on Dianne Reeves's Grammy Award-winning album, Beautiful Life.

In addition to his compositional prowess, Omar is a highly-sought after public speaker and advocate for music education, having provided the keynote addresses for the 99th National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) Conference, the National Association for Music Education (NAfME) Conference, the College Music Society (CMS) Conference, the Music for All National Convention, and Eastman School of Music's Context Conference.

Mark Landson

is a composer, lyricist, violinist, violist, and writer. He has been featured by the Dallas Observer in their “Top 100 Creatives in Dallas” series, by Dallas-Fort Worth arts website TheaterJones in their “Forward Thinkers” series, and through numerous other broadcast interviews and press articles as a prolific contributor to the creative culture of North Texas, where he resides.

Mr. Landson has performed throughout the United States and Europe as a member of various orchestras and chamber ensembles including the Rochester Philharmonic, the New American Chamber Orchestra, and La Orquesta de Granada (the Orchestra of Granada, Spain).

Mr. Landson grew up in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and graduated from the Eastman School of Music, where he studied with noted professors Bruce Plumb, George Taylor, and James Dunham. While in college, he also wrote songs, organized and sang in rock bands, performed in musical theater productions, and wrote and acted in a comedy variety show.

After Eastman, he moved to Spain to become a member of La Orquesta de Granada, and toured throughout Europe and Morocco in both orchestral and chamber music groups. At this time he was also a member of the Boccherini String Quartet, playing 15-20 concerts per year in Spain and Morroco. During this time, he began to develop his unique style of classical composition by melding classical motivic development with rock and pop sensibilities of harmony and pacing. His first compositions in this style were featured on Spanish radio and he was also hired to create orchestral arrangements for the Orchestra of Granada.

Upon returning to the United States, Tom Sime of The Dallas Morning News wrote of Mark Landson, “a talented young composer, reminiscient of Stravinsky at his most lyrical”. Soon after, he formed Neo Camerata, a group dedicated to performing his classical chamber music works in a variety of settings, including rock clubs and classical concert halls.

From 2004-2007 Neo Camerata performed in traditional concert halls and rock clubs, at the Cannes Film Festival and with symphony orchestras, released a recoding of Landson’s chamber music (Travels, Well-Tempered) and also collaborated with Rejane Magloire of Technotronic on the recording of her hip-hopera “Forbidden Opera” (EMI).

In 2011, Landson founded Open Classical, which produces a variety of innovative classical music programming, including costumed variety shows, a touring chamber music concert route, as well as signature community Classical Open Mic events.

Commissions have included the ballet “Le Mozart Noir” (2016), recipient of a Donna Wilhelm Family New Works grant, the operetta “Goldilocks” (2015), and “Moments in Memory” (2017). In December 2016, his string quartet “Travels” took the grand prize at “The Ear” competition in New York, chosen among 750 overall entries, and 9 final live round contestants.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE

Lewisville ISD Fine Arts Department

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen, families, and guests. Thank you so much for joining us this evening!

We are thrilled to welcome you all to the Hebron Orchestra's first major performance event in the newly renovated HEBRON auditorium!

This beautiful, state-of-the-art facility is a dream come true for our performing arts programs. We would like to thank our voters for supporting the 2023 bond referendum that made this transformation possible. Your commitment to Lewisville ISD has given our students a world-class venue to showcase their incredible talents for years to come.

The arts are an essential part of a well-rounded education, and we are grateful to live in a community that recognizes their value and proudly chooses to invest in them.

Thank you for investing in our students, our programs, and the future of our community.
